

BATTLE IN RUMANIA GROWS

Rumanian line at the result of the Arpaia River action, however, they plan to throw a force across the Danube for a dash to Bucharest, the Rumanian capital.

The new offensive follows the capture of Tutrakan by the Germans. Tutrakan is thirty-six miles in a straight line from Bucharest, though farther than that by the roads, which must be followed.

The capture of the Rumanian fortress of Tutrakan by an army of Germans and Bulgarians has opened much jubilation throughout the Central Empire.

In this city the Bulgarian flag is being flown on many buildings and considerable are doing a thriving business in the sale of pictures of King Ferdinand and of Bulgarian generals. It is now estimated that about 20,000

French Repulse German Attacks

By CHARLES F. BERTHELLE, Paris, Sept. 8.—Another series of German offensive attacks was launched by the Germans south of the Somme river last night, but all were repulsed, according to the official communique issued by the French War Office today.

These assaults were delivered in the sector of Berry on Somme and Chaulnes and they not only broke down, but the Germans left 200 prisoners in the hands of the French.

North of the Somme there was a severe artillery duel.

On the Verchin front the French made two progress on the line of Vaux, Chapielle and Chaulnes, and attacked with loss on the latter.

The text of the official communique is as follows:

"On the Somme our artillery continues active in various sectors north of the river.

"South of the Somme the enemy made a serious attack during the night against the positions which we had captured from them to the south of Chaulnes without any result. Our troops repulsed the attack between Vaux-Chapielle and Chaulnes with a slight disadvantage.

"Everywhere we maintained our positions, adding 200 prisoners to the 200 we captured yesterday in the same region.

"On the right bank of the Meuse (Verchin front) between the woods of Vaux-Chapielle and Chaulnes we made some additional progress. A German offensive attack against our positions was repulsed by our troops.

"The fighting was quiet on the rest of the front."

Berlin Admits Loss of Ground at Verdun.

By International News Service, Berlin, Sept. 8.—Today's official report of the War Office admits that German troops have lost ground at Verdun on the Verchin front, but records further success for the Turkish-Bulgarian army operating against Rumania.

The text of the official report follows:

"West of Verdun—North of the Somme there is continuous artillery activity. South of the river there have been infantry actions in which the attacks were repulsed with severe losses.

"West of Verdun—In the isolated trench sections remained in the hands of the enemy.

"On the right bank of the Meuse during the fighting on Wednesday northeast of Fort Souville some ground was lost by us. Intense artillery activity continues on both sides in the Verdun sector.

"Eastern front—There is nothing to report from the front held by the army of Prince Louis-Jolibois.

"Army group of Archduke Karl—On the Zlot-Lado, River, northeast of Hirsany and on the Sauerbrunn, Rumanian attacks failed with heavy losses.

"In the Carpathians, German enterprises southwest of Zolozna and west of Zolozna were repulsed. Heavy attacks were repulsed southwest of Polotsk."

Russians Advance in Galician Drive.

By International News Service, Petrograd, Sept. 8.—The Russian offensive in Galicia continues successfully, despite the stubborn resistance of the German allies. German counter-attacks on the Dvina and in Vuktyria have been repulsed. The War Office issued the following statement on operations today:

"German counter-attacks against our positions on the western bank of the Dvina were repulsed. An attack in the region of Vuktyria, the direction of Kovel, was also repulsed.

"On the Galits-Lado River in Galicia our offensive continues, despite the stubborn resistance of the enemy, who is bombarding us from the right bank of the river.

"Caucasian front—In the direction of Kizil and Qizil there is some fighting."

Artillery Duels on Greek Front

By International News Service, Paris, Sept. 8.—Violent artillery duels have taken place within the past twenty-four hours in the sector of Dobran, the Struma River and Ili in Greek Macedonia, says the War Office in a report today dealing with operations in the Balkans.

The War Office report follows:

"Army of the Orient—There was a violent artillery duel on the Struma River, as well as in the regions of Ili and Lake Doiran. There was comparative calm on the Serbian front.

"A serious aeroplane was brought down southwest of Lake Doiran. The machine, in flames, fell within our lines."

ITALIANS CHECK TEUTON ATTACK

By International News Service, Rome, Sept. 8.—Austro-Hungarian troops delivered a violent attack in the Sugaia valley on Wednesday, but it was repulsed, according to the official statement issued by the Italian War Office today. The assault was made on the Trebbia front.

Alpine troops captured by storm an Austro-Hungarian trench on the slopes of Monte Tofano, in the Dolomites.

POLISH AID DEFENCE TO U. S. BY BRITAIN

Washington, Sept. 8.—The British ambassador, Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, handed to President Wilson at the White House today an unsigned letter from King George of England explaining why Great Britain could not agree to the Polish relief proposal of this government. The letter it is understood, places the blame on German troops for the situation which the foodstuffs would not be requisitioned for army purposes.

WAR SUMMARY

More detailed reports of the capture of Tutrakan—also known as Turtak—by the combined German and Bulgarian forces. The Teutons claim to have taken 20,000 prisoners in the Rumanian fortress. This is not unlikely, for the whole defending force was probably cut off from escape by the destruction of the bridge connecting Tutrakan with the railroad to Bucharest.

Tutrakan has been defined as a "bridgehead." That is true, but confusing. Some have supposed it was on the Rumanian side of the Danube, and that its capture meant the Teuton-Bulgarian army had crossed that formidable natural obstacle.

This is incorrect. Tutrakan is the Rumanian city—and fortress—on the south side of the Danube. The Teutons have not crossed the river, nor are they likely to for these reasons:

- 1.—There is no particular object in a campaign to crush Rumania. It would mean an expenditure of energy with no commensurate return.
- 2.—The task would be enormously difficult. The crossing of the Danube at Belgrade was a severe task. Along the Rumanian frontier, the Danube is wider—a more difficult obstacle.
- 3.—The Danube itself forms a convenient defence for the Teuton-Bulgarian forces. They will probably be content to rest on it.

The Teuton object is probably an advance into the Dobrudja, which would mean a narrowing of their front as the Danube approaches the sea, and render easier their defence against the eventual Russian attacks here.

The Russians have resumed active campaigning. Their guns are within range of Halicz, they claim captures of large numbers of prisoners there, and the Austrians and Germans admit retreat in that locality. Russian pressure has also been resumed along the Dvina, north of Dvinsk, with some success.

The French took the offensive at Verdun in effective fashion yesterday, recapturing a mile line of German trenches in the region northeast of Fort Souville. The Verdun fighting has been marked by small but steady French gains for some time now, and without a miracle, Verdun may be regarded as safe. A French offensive thence might have important results in reconquering the rich French coal and iron fields toward Metz, but such an offensive would be difficult and is hardly probable. The coal and iron deposits would be of no great value to the French, who have the world to draw on; but their loss would be a blow to the Germans. The possibility of a French offensive must therefore be kept in mind.

GERMANS READY FOR ALLIED TRADE WAR

Washington, Sept. 8.—Official dispatches received here today of Germany's trade plans make it certain that the allied trade drive will be met with the active competition of Germany.

While industrial Germany is reported as regarding lightly the threat of a trade war there are many evidences of the physical preparations being made to meet it. Large numbers of freight and passenger ships are being built, the reports say, and plans are being made to increase in re-equipping manufacturing plants with machinery of maximum efficiency.

BRITISH CAPTURE MORE MEN

By SYDNEY B. CAVE, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

London, Sept. 8.—Artillery duels and combats with bombs took place on the Somme front last night, says the official communication issued by the British War Office today.

The British have captured two more German officers and fifty men.

The text of the official report follows:

"Beyond the usual artillery duelling and local fighting with bombs there is nothing to report from the Somme front. Two more German officers and fifty men were captured. Southeast of Amiens and Arras, the British attacked enemy trenches and inflicted severe casualties. The enemy shell ammunition was captured."

here that the Austro-Hungarian troops defending Halicz, in Galicia, have begun to evacuate the city. The greater part of Halicz that has not been wrecked by the shells of the Russian artillery has been burned.

Halicz is on the Dniester River, about 18 miles north of Stanislaw. The railroad crossing Galicia from Czernowits to Lemberg passes through Halicz.

The Teuton line in the district around Halicz is held by Austro-Hungarian, German and Turkish troops, and there has been bloody fighting in that district.

More prisoners have been captured by the Rumanians in Galicia, and enemy losses are being indicated upon the German side.

In the Carpathians the Rumanians are advancing methodically from halts to halts in the wooded district.

MILLION DOLLAR DRIVE FOR SUFFRAGE

By International News Service.

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 8.—Plans for a "million-dollar drive" to win franchise for women in most of the states by 1920 and in the nation by Federal amendment by 1925 were adopted today by delegates to the convention of the National Woman Suffrage Association. It was decided to raise $1,000,000 by October 1, 1917. No "tailed" contributions from political or liquor interests are to be accepted. No partisan influence is to be recognized in the expenditure of this fund in careful, systematic publicity work, having for its object the winning of a federal amendment to the constitution giving women the vote.

Fighting Fatigue

Fatigue is the greatest enemy you have to face in business life today

"The struggle of business and city life," says Dr. Brady, "is a constant 'Kinetic Drive.' It is a long drawn-out fight against Fatigue." You dare not rest for fear of being left behind. But gradually Fatigue slows down your pace. Your energy is gone.

The man in the store or office, or the salesman who goes from place to place, is under a constant "Drive." No matter how weary he is, he must always be in good humor and high spirits.

The man at the lathe, forge or bench, working all day on factory floors, is more fatigued by standing on the floors than by the work he does. His back aches at night from the steady strain on his spine during the day.

The superintendent who walks miles daily with nail-studded hard leather heels on unyielding factory floors, wastes his energy and vitality.

"The average man," says Harrington Emerson, the well-known efficiency engineer, "is only 25 per cent efficient, because he does not conserve his energy."

A great cause for Fatigue

One of the greatest causes of Fatigue, and loss of energy nowadays, is hard city streets and hardwood floors.

The energy that you pound away on stony pavements you cannot apply to your work. It is wasted power, and wasted power is not paid for.

You could play tennis all day on a hard clay court, and at night, have only the tired feeling

Office Men and Salesmen
You cannot apply to your work the energy you pound away on stony pavements. Conserve this wasted power. Wear Heels of New Live Rubber.

Owners and Factory Workers
Does your back ache from continued standing and walking on hard factory floors? O'Sullivan's Rubber Heels relieve the strain on your spine.

Average man only 25% efficient because he does not conserve his energy that comes from wholesome exercise. But a few hours on hard streets and floors exhaust you.

The reason is plain. When you play tennis you wear shoes with rubber heels and soles. These absorb the shocks which would otherwise jar your spinal column, and tire your nerves.

To play tennis on hard leather heels would soon exhaust you. Yet, with every step you take with hard heels on hard floors and pavements, you subject your nerves to jolts and jars more fatiguing than you would get from courts of clay.

Take the strain off your spine

Equip yourself for your work as you would for anything else.

In every trade and profession, intelligent workers are now saving their energy by wearing O'Sullivan's Heels of New Live Rubber.

One out of every four people in every walk of life, in the most nerve racking city in the world, wears O'Sullivan's Heels. These little Shock Absorbers save their energy for their work.

Save your energy. Achieve success. Wear O'Sullivan's Heels of New Live Rubber. Remember that the man who "gets there" is the man with power to spare.

When you buy your new shoes, buy them O'Sullivanized. Up-to-date shoe dealers now sell latest style shoes with O'Sullivan's Heels already attached.

Insist on O'Sullivanized shoes—the new live rubber heels give the greatest wear with the greatest resiliency. At any shoe dealer or shoe maker; in black, white or tan; for men, women and children; 50c attached.

Get in step with people who do things. Walk with the perfect poise and vigorous stride that go with real success.

Take the strain off your spine

You wear shoes with rubber heels and soles to play tennis on a clay court. Why not wear rubber heels on much harder pavements?

HUGHES RENEWS ATTACK ON 8-HOUR BILL

Lawton, Me., Sept. 8.—Speaking in Lewiston, the "Solid City" and also termed the industrial heart of Maine, Charles Hughes renewed the Republican presidential nominee, today dwelt chiefly upon the labor question.

"There is no interest to which I am more deeply attached than the just interests of labor. As I look into the future I see no interest that needs more careful attention—more sedulous consideration."

The candidate declared that the dignity of labor must be recognized and the conditions of labor must be just and wholesome.

"If anybody rises in this country to say that I am not a friend of labor he is not telling the truth," said Mr. Hughes.

The speaker again attacked the motion in which President Wilson vetoed a railroad strike law, and the conditions of labor must be just and wholesome.

Mr. Hughes said that there had never been a more important issue before the people than the labor situation. He spoke briefly in favor of a protective tariff.

He left at noon for Waterville. The main meeting will be held at Bangor. An exceptionally heavy schedule has been mapped out for tomorrow. Mr. Hughes will deliver three thirty-minute speeches during the morning at Augusta, Brunswick and Bath. Another thirty-minute speech will be made at Rockland in the afternoon.

Several other stops may be made at other smaller cities and towns on the morning, may make brief two-minute addresses.

Mr. Hughes will conclude his Maine tour with an evening meeting at Rockland. From that city he will go to Boston, where he will spend Sunday night for Syracuse, N. Y., where Mr. Hughes will speak at Flushing Meadows.

The campaign party will leave Boston shortly before midnight Sunday morning for Syracuse, N. Y., where Mr. Hughes will speak at Flushing Meadows.

From which city he will return to New York. The campaign will continue the next few days to his summer home at Brookampton, where he will prepare for his second tour.

which will start September 18 and will keep him constantly on the go until November 4, when he will end his campaign with a speech in the Madison Square Gardens, New York.

RESINOL PROVED WONDERFUL FOR ITCHING ECZEMA

For 23 years I had a chronic case of eczema on my hands for about three years. I got red in places, especially between my fingers, and when I rubbed them a little, pimples or blisters would form which filled with water. The longer I had this trouble, the larger these pimples got. I can't express in words what a terrible thing it was. I couldn't find anything to help me—everything seemed to make it worse. I had about given up all hope of ever being cured. They were terribly sore, and I could not sleep for the terrible itching and burning. I learned of Resinol Ointment, and Resinol Soap, and decided to try them. Well, Resinol really proved to be a wonderful thing in my case. It relieved at the first application. I used about a cake of Resinol Soap and half a jar of Resinol Ointment and the eczema was all gone. I haven't returned since. I am so glad I tried Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap, as I do not know how I could have stood that eczema much longer. It is a cheap and sure cure." (Signed) Mrs. H. H. Dorebow, Sioux Falls, S. D.

Hair Often Ruined By Washing With Soap

Soap should be used very carefully. If you want to keep your hair looking its best, most soaps and repeated shampooing contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mild coconut oil (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and keep thoroughly. Simply massage the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dirt, dust, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous. It is so easy to manage.

You can get mild coconut oil at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months. Advertisement.

Men's Fall Hats

It is not often that a men's clothing store builds up a really big hat business. But this Live Store has proved an exception to the rule in this respect as in so many others. We've made our Hat Department a big, a real, a wide-awake Hat Store, as widely and as justly famous for its correct styles and high qualities as for its unusual service and greater values.

Our hat stock is big in size and wide in variety. We offer shapes and styles for every age, every face, figure and fancy. And there's a plenty of every kind. We never ask a man to take a hat that falls short of being exactly right, because we always have the one that is exactly right.

If you've never owned a Kennedy Hat, try one this Fall and learn from experience why so many men wear nothing else.

Kennedy Special Soft Hats of medium weight in browns, greens and grays, ranging from conservative staples to snappy styles for young men. Derbies, too. They look and wear like $2.50, but cost only $1.95

Kennedy X-L-O Soft Hats in a variety of handsome new tones as well as the familiar grays, greens, browns and pearls—all of exceptionally fine quality. X-L-O Derbies are ready, too. $3.00

Stetson Soft Hats and Derbies, $3.50

Style Note—In the soft hats for this season, the crowns are a trifle lower and the brims a little wider and flatter. This same tendency is found in the derbies as well.

'JUNKET' STIRS BAY STATE MEN ON BORDER

By BERT FORD.

Second Massachusetts Brigade Headquarters, El Paso, Tex., Sept. 8.—Preston has followed the arrival on the border of three militia officers detailed by Adjutant-General Pearson to make a complete muster of the Massachusetts soldiers here.

Before midnight it had developed into the first row among the Bay State forces on the border. Incidentally, it was announced that the trouble that arrived Wednesday night came without papers. This caused Commanding officers of the Bay State units are grumbling about the "extra work" thrust upon them by Adjutant-General Pearson. Colonel John H. Sherburne of the Field Artillery referred to the matter as a "junket and unnecessary expense to the State." Others complained as vigorously as did Colonel Sherburne, but failed to be quoted.

Colonel Sherburne who is a member of the Massachusetts Legislature did not mince words. He said: "One of the adjutant-general's representatives was here. He requested a complete copy of the index of the men in my command."

The adjutant-general's office already has had a complete roll of the artillery regiment furnished. I don't know where these fellows got it. It has been out of date for some time. It has been out of date in whole or in part. There were more simple and cheaper methods of obtaining a new muster record instead of sending three men to the Mexican border for the purpose. Look like a junket to me."

Furthermore, the cards they come equipped with bear a new form of oath which the men were not obliged to take when mustered in at Framingham. It would take six or seven men in each battery of my regiment some time to do what the adjutant-general wants."

The officers sent for the purpose are: Captain J. N. Greig of K Company, of the Sixth Regiment; Lieutenant James J. Powers of G Company, of the Sixth, and Lieutenant T. M. Bagg, battalion adjutant of the Coast Artillery Corps. They arrived from Boston on Tuesday.

Captain Greig said, in answer to Colonel Sherburne: "We are acting under military orders from the commander-in-chief of the Massachusetts forces, who is the Governor. These orders were transmitted to us through the Adjutant-General's Department. It had been found necessary to get a complete record of each man from Massachusetts now serving on the border."

He was called on the telephone and asked if I could proceed to El Paso within twenty-four hours on this duty, as it was highly important. The other officers were given equally short notice.

The officers were assigned to this work, as it involves State records. The only organization commander who has failed to cooperate with us, after the necessity of these records had been fully explained, was Colonel Sherburne of the Field Artillery. For from being a junket, the officers detailed are making every effort to complete the task at the earliest possible moment, and working more hours each day than the persons who attempt to criticize them."

By J. C. KERRISON.

The conquest of the White Mountains, district by the Owen Magnetic Company is to be enacted by the all-famous representative New York, Philadelphia and Boston, the start being made tomorrow morning, when the New York and Philadelphia contingent will leave New York City and start for Great Barrington, where the main party will remain at the Copple-Place over night, while certain enthusiasts will continue the journey with the idea of making the run from the Frettle House to New York a continuous one. No less than fifteen Owen Magnetic cars will be used in this outfit and will carry a party numbering about seventy persons. The newspaper men of New York, Philadelphia and Boston are to be the guests of the Baker R. & L. Company on this outing.

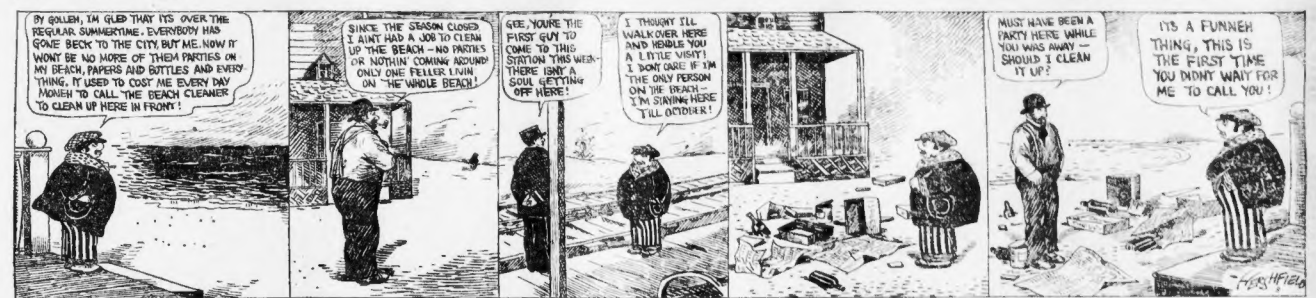

C. R. T. Schaepe, one of the brightest writers on automobile topics in the country, has reflected his position as a wholesale manager for the C. T. Baker Company, to become automobile editor of the Tribune.
